

MercWorks community volunteers

The Merc Co+op is committed to building a community based on hospitality, generosity, and care for the environment. Through the MercWorks program, owners are rewarded for their volunteer efforts with our MercWorks non-profit partners. It's our way of giving back to the folks who give, and another way our co-op supports the local organizations that create meaningful, lasting impact in our community.

Co-op owners and their households — regardless of number of members of their household or age — who volunteer with a MercWorks partner receive a store coupon in the mail the month following volunteering.
